With all due respect, I would like to see the matter with Microsoft setteled without further court action.

I am a microsoft customer and I find the cries of unfair are not justified. I do not use all of the products supplied with Microsoft and feel that choice to use or not use is up to me, not the courts.

Other companies package other programs with their packages, do we go after them next.

I am sure that I do not understand all the parts of this lawsuit, but I know that putting business down does not enhance our ecconomy.

Sincerely,

DeLoy Denning
